Form I-589; Request for Asylum and Withholding of Deportation in the United States: Establishment of Compliance Date

AGENCY: Immigration and Naturalization Service, Justice.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule amends the Immigration and Naturalization Service's (Service) regulations by updating the listing of forms currently in use by the Service to reflect the current edition date (November 16, 1994) and title of the Form I-589, Application for Asylum and for Withholding of Deportation. This update is necessary to ensure that only the current edition of the Form I-589 listed in the regulations is used. Applications submitted on prior versions of the Form I-589 will not be accepted after March 24, 1995.

DATES: This rule is effective February 22, 1995. Applications submitted on the prior versions of the Form I-589 will not be accepted after March 24, 1995.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On November 4, 1994, a notice of revision of the Form I-589 was published in the Federal Register at 59 FR 55289. On November 28, 1994, the revised Form I-589 was approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for use by the Service under the provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act. This rule amends 8 CFR 299.1 by updating the entry for the Form I-589 to reflect the current title and edition date (November 16, 1994).

The Form I-589 must be submitted when an individual who is present in the United States applies for asylum and for withholding of deportation. Applications submitted using a prior version of the November 16, 1994, Form I-589 will no longer be accepted after March 24, 1995, and the application will be returned by the Service. After March 24, 1995, the 150-day period after which the applicant may file an application for employment authorization in accordance with the regulations will not commence if the applicant submits a version of Form I-589 with a revision date prior to November 16, 1994.

The deadline for use of the prior version of the Form I-589 is, in the view of the INS, a rule of agency procedure or practice. Therefore, it is not subject to the notice and comment requirements of 5 U.S.C. § 553. The INS publishes this rule of procedure or practice in the Federal Register for the guidance of the public as required by 5 U.S.C. § 552.

Standards for Electronic Bulletin Boards Required Under Part 284 of the Commission's Regulations

Issued February 15, 1995.

AGENCY: Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.ACTION: Final rule; order granting clarification and extension of time.

SUMMARY: In response to a request for clarification submitted by the Electronic Bulletin Board Working Group, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission is issuing an order making changes to the fields that report the maximum natural gas pipeline tariff rate related to released capacity. The order clarifies that pipelines must report only the maximum tariff rate related to the type of release involved; e.g., the maximum reservation rate for a reservation rate release and the maximum volumetric rate for a volumetric release. The order also grants an extension of time for pipelines to implement the new fields.

DATES: New fields must be implemented on or before March 17, 1995.

Order Granting Clarification and Extension of Time

Issued February 15, 1995.

Before Commissioners: Elizabeth Anne Moler, Chair; Vicky A. Bailey, James J. Hoecker, William L. Massey, and Donald F. Santa, Jr.

On January 24, 1995, the Electronic Bulletin Board (EBB) Working Group filed a request for clarification of the Commission's December 29, 1994 order¹ requiring pipelines to include maximum rate fields as part of the capacity release data sets adopted by the Commission in Order No. 563.² The Working Group further requests an extension of time for compliance until the later of 30 days after the Commission issues a clarification order or the Gas*Flow implementation guide is available in the Commission's public reference room. The Commission will grant the requested clarification and will extend the time for compliance until 30 days from the date of this order.

In the December 29, 1994 order, the Commission accepted a proposal by the Working Group to include the maximum tariff rate for capacity posted for release. The Commission required the inclusion in the Award Data Set of the maximum reservation rate and maximum volumetric rate for released capacity. The Working Group had proposed that the fields should be considered optional, meaning that a pipeline would include the fields only if the pipeline chooses to do so or its tariff requires it to include the information. The Commission, however, concluded that the fields should be mandatory, because the Commission needed maximum rate data for all releases from all pipelines.

The Working Group requests clarification, contending that these fields should be designated conditional, rather than mandatory, fields. A mandatory designation would mean that data must be included in both of these fields for every release. The Working Group argues that if a release is a reservation rate release, there is no need to include the maximum volumetric rate, and vice versa.³ The Working Group contends, therefore, that the maximum rate fields should be made conditional on the type of release involved, so that only the maximum rate related to the release would be provided; e.g., the maximum reservation rate for a reservation rate release and the maximum volumetric rate for a volumetric release.⁴ The Working Group states that changing the field designation to conditional would not disturb the Commission requirement that pipelines provide the maximum rate data for all releases, but would only serve to ensure that unnecessary information would not be provided. The Working Group has included revised data sets to implement this change and stated that the datasets would be provided to the Gas*Flow group for incorporation into the EDI implementation guide.

The Commission will accept the proposed modification to make the fields conditional as described in the data sets. The intent of the December 29, 1994 order was to require pipelines to supply data on the maximum rate for each release, but the Commission did not intend that pipelines report a maximum rate that was unrelated to the type of release involved; e.g., a maximum reservation rate for a volumetric release. Such information

³ If a release is a blended release comprised of both a reservation rate and volumetric component, the Working Group states that data would have to be supplied for both fields.

⁴ In the argot of the data sets, they propose that each maximum rate field would be made conditional on the response to the Rate From Type Code, which is a mandatory field that describes whether the release is a (1) reservation rate, (2) volumetric, or (3) blended release. If the Rate Form Type Code is 1 indicating a reservation rate release, only the maximum reservation rate must be provided. If the Rate Form Type Code is 2 indicating a volumetric release, only the maximum volumetric rate must be provided. If the Rate Form Type Code is 3 indicating a blended release, both the maximum reservation rate and maximum volumetric rate must be provided.

¹ Standards For Electronic Bulletin Boards Required Under Part 284 of the Commission's Regulations, Order No. 563-D, 60 FR 1718 (Jan. 5, 1995), 69 FERC ¶ 61,418 (Dec. 29, 1994).

² Standards For Electronic Bulletin Boards Required Under Part 284 of the Commission's Regulations, Order No. 563, 59 FR 516 (Jan. 5, 1994), III FERC Stats. & Regs. Preambles ¶ 30,988 (Dec. 23, 1993), order on reh'g, Order No. 563-A, 59 FR 23624 (May 6, 1994), III FERC Stats. & Regs. Preambles ¶ 30,994 (May 2, 1994), reh'g denied, Order No. 563-B, 68 FERC ¶ 61,002 (1994).

would be superfluous. Since the Working Group's proposal would require pipelines to provide the relevant maximum rate for all releases, the Commission will accept it.

The Working Group further requests that the Commission provide an extension of time to comply with this requirement until the later of 30 days after the Commission issues a clarification order or the Gas*Flow implementation guide is available in the Commission's public reference room. The Commission will grant an extension of time until 30 days after the issuance of this order.

Unlike the Working Group's previous filing, a proposed EDI implementation guide was not provided along with the proposed change to conditional fields. The Commission needs the information on maximum release rates as promptly as possible and, given the minimum changes necessary to implement the change, the Commission concludes that, if Gas*Flow has not already made the necessary changes, it can make them promptly. Thus, a 30 day delay is adequate to implement the proposed changes. Once the implementation guide is finalized, it must be filed with the Commission. The data sets and EDI implementation guide will then be incorporated into the "Standardized Data Sets and Communication Protocols" which is available at the Commission's Public Reference and Files Maintenance Branch.

The Commission orders: (A) The Commission will grant the requested clarification and accept the conditional fields for maximum reservation rate and maximum volumetric rate as proposed in the January 24, 1995 filing.

(B) Pipelines must implement these new fields within 30 days of the date of this order.

By the Commission.

Lois D. Cashell,

Secretary.
